

Languages, Communication, and Humanities

About the Languages, Communication, and Humanities ACP

Are you inspired by the use of language and communication to shed light on global issues, struggles, and stories? Would you like to build a world where people connect to each other through language, ideas, and cultural expression?

The knowledge and skills gained through the Languages, Communication, and Humanities ACP will prepare you for career and transfer opportunities in a broad range of fields, such as teaching, translation and interpretation, journalism, media, entertainment, marketing, public relations, government, international business, international relations, and law.

Careers in Languages, Communication, and Humanities*

- ▶ Teachers, professors, and educators.
- ▶ Diplomats, Foreign Service officers, lawyers, and historians.
- ▶ Language interpreters, translators, and linguists.
- ▶ Publishers, journalists, writers, and copywriters.
- ▶ Public relations, advertising, and marketing professionals.

Many of these careers require a bachelor's degree or higher.*

For More Information

- ▶ For information about programs within this ACP at MiraCosta College, please visit the Languages, Communication, and Humanities ACP webpage.
- ▶ For additional career, job outlook, and salary information, please visit the college's Career Coach tool.