About SAS

A student seeking an academic accommodation due to a documented disability should request assistance from Student Accessibility Services (SAS). The student must present verifying documentation of the disability from a qualified professional as determined by SAS.

SAS will assess and document the extent of the student's educational limitations. SAS will authorize academic accommodations based upon the educational limitations and severity of disability.

Accommodations may include interpreters or real-time captioning for the Deaf and hard of hearing, alternate format materials (such as Braille, large print, or e-text), exam accommodations, note takers, equipment loan, and priority enrollment for matriculated students.

In addition, the department offers a specialized computer lab, learning strategies classes designed for students with learning disabilities, and special noncredit classes for students with disabilities. Learning disability testing is available for students who qualify for this service. All services are designed to help students participate fully in the regular college program.

SAS is available to meet with prospective, new, and continuing students attending the Oceanside Campus, San Elijo Campus, and Community Learning Center (CLC). For more information, please visit the SAS webpage (<https://www.miracosta.edu/student-services/dsps/>) or call 760.795.6658.
